ACTUAL CONDITION

Of the Famine-Stricken District in Russia.

EVIDENCE OF EYE-WITNESSES.

The State Department at Washington Has Received an Interesting Report from Our Minister at St. Petersburg Relating to the Starving Peasants. Fourteen Million People in Want of Food—Relief Should Be Extended at Once.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—In response to many sympathetic inquiries and proffers of aid received from friends in the United States, the department of state has received from the minister at St. Petersburg an interesting report of the actual condition of the stricken districts of Russia, prepared from evidence of eye-witnesses and most trustworthy sources, of which the following is epitome:

The territory afflicted by the drought comprises thirteen provinces of European Russia where the famine is general, viz: Kazan, Nijni, Novgorod, Orenburg, Oufa, Pensa, Riazan, Samara, Saratoff, Simbirsk, Tamboff, Tonia, Viatka and Voronege. In five other provinces the famine prevails in part, viz: Kursk, Olonetz, Orel, Perm and Tamrile. One or two others like Kharkov have suffered to some extent, but are not included in the official list.

The first thirteen provinces in area are one-third greater than all Germany. They cover an area equal to the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Kentucky altogether. The population is about equal, or about 27,000,000.

The provinces above named, if included in the comparison would equal a combined area of Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and half of Ohio. The total population of these five provinces is nearly double that of the eleven states.

This vast section is agricultural and the richest and ordinarily the most fruitful soil of Russia. The destination is not universal, as there are those whose accumulations have saved them from want, and there are some spots preserved from blight by irrigation where a good harvest was reaped, but at the best estimate, the proportion of suffering is enormous.

An official estimate of the number of those without food or means of support who require aid is given at 14,000,000 persons, and this is probably below the true number.

For three years the crop has fallen short of the average, and the deficiency of the past season left the storehouses well nigh empty, and with the increased failure of this year it is evident and, Minister Smith adds, positive that unless equal relief can be supplied the great suffering will grow. The great proportion of the peasantry is not provident. The peasants make no savings, but live wholly dependent upon yearly crops, hence long continued and widespread drought leaves them subject to outside relief.

The scarcity of provisions is not the only misery of the people. The crops are the foundation of their whole economic structure. When their crops fail various evils follow. The government loses revenue and the peasants lack all the necessities of life—clothing, firewood, farming implements, subsistence of horses and cattle, all depend upon this resource. The crops, the taxes and rental continue, and it is as difficult to get fuel as food in some sections. Cold as well as hunger cause terrible suffering. Large numbers of persons huddle together in some houses most conducive to warmth and even thatched roofs are torn off and straw fed to the dying embers. Clothing is given away for bread. Horses and cattle are sacrificed. Fodder is as scarce as human food. In some cases horseflesh has been sacrificed for subsistence.

During the winter there is no work, and frequently fathers have left their wives and children to fight the battle of want alone, because they could do nothing and their absence would leave fewer months to feed at home. The bread many are eating is composed of wild arrook, potatoes, chaff and leaves, and these terrible conditions produce disease. Within the radius of one mile there are 120 cases of typhoid fever. Pestilence and hunger are daily gaining ground, and pestilence is decimating the people.

Through January, February and March the roads will be good and all energies shall be bent to putting provisions into the suffering provinces. The rivers are frozen. Two or three railroads run into the famine-stricken provinces, but there are no branches and all provisions must be carried long distances on sledges. The problem is how to carry enough during the next three months, not alone for the present, but also to tide over until the next harvest, which should be in July.

In the middle of March or first of April the roads will become heavy or difficult. Horses now available for the spring farming will be in use. Time is a most important factor of the work of relief. Every week is vital. One hundred and eighty million pounds of food are necessary. Fifty carloads should arrive every day, but only eleven carloads were received Christmas week. The emergency pending has not been realized unfortunately, but the specter of famine has overawed everybody, and every energy must be strained to mitigate the calamity. The imperial government has, up to the present time, applied $42,500,000 from the public treasury for the work of relief, but the work must still go on and the expenditure must amount to a much higher sum.

The Russian emperor has personally given enormously and all classes are giving according to their means. The loss to the government will be at least $100,000,000 or more, while conservative estimates of the loss to Russia in view of all consequences is placed at not less than one thousand million rubles. Up to the present there has been but few contributions from abroad, but the government and the people of Russia are deeply sensible of spontaneous offerings that have been made in various parts of the United States and have intimated as much to Mr. Smith in their expressions of appreciation.

FIRE IN A TENEMENT HOUSE.
Eight People Injured by Jumping from the Windows.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—A fire occurred last night in a rear four story tenement house at 87 Hester street, which was occupied by eight families of Russian Hebrews, numbering in all forty persons. The fire originated through the accidental upsetting of a kerosene oil lamp in the apartments of Solomon Salinski on the second floor and spread with amazing rapidity through the rickety old tenement. The escape of the inmates by the stairway was cut off and panic-stricken, they fled to the roof and to the fire escapes. Eight of them were so badly frightened by the near approach of the fire that they leaped to the courtyard below. All sustained serious injuries and three of the injured will die.

Their names and injuries are: Fannie Levi, seventeen, eight ribs broken and one leg injured; Louis Kanfman, eighteen, skull fractured, several ribs and both legs broken; will die; Solomon Zalinski, thirty-eight, leg broken; Anna Goldstein, fifty-five, contusions of head and body; Freda Goldstein, eighteen months, compound fracture of the skull; Rebecca Pomerant, jumped from the fourth story of the burning building, her back being broken; she will die.

The other tenants remained on the roof and fire escapes, from which places they were safely rescued by the firemen when they arrived on the scene. The loss by fire amounts to about $1,000.

Serious Fire Loss to a Village.

WOODSTOCK, Ills., Feb. 2.—The Waverly House, in this city, was discovered on fire this morning. At 1 o'clock the whole street was in flames and the fire beyond control. In response to a call for help an engine came from Harvard, twelve miles distant, on a special train, and at 2:30 a. m. the fire was brought under control. The burned buildings include the Waverly House, a saloon, two livery stables, a boarding house, two small stores and a billiard hall. The total loss is about $50,000; partially insured.

SHOT BY BURGLARS.

Two Murders of the Same Kind in Savannah, Georgia, Within a Week.

SAVANNAH, Feb. 2.—There is considerable excitement here over two murders which have occurred within a week. One week ago August Meyer was shot and killed by burglars. Five men have been arrested for his murder and three women are held as witnesses.

At a mass-meeting held after the murder, a committee was appointed to wait upon Judge Tollican to notify him of the discontent of citizens with the slowness of the court. The judge assured the committee that prompt measures would be taken to bring the culprits to justice.

Just after midnight last night Watchman Love, of the Commercial guana works, was shot and killed, also by burglars. This last crime is looked upon by the citizens as a challenge from the criminal elements, and a law and order league is to be formed to meet it.

Through a Tunnel.

Twelve Prisoners Almost Escape from the Ohio Penitentiary.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 2.—Warden Dyer frustrated the plans of twelve prisoners to escape from the Ohio penitentiary Sunday night. The men had dug a tunnel to within twenty feet of the outer wall, in which they had placed several suits of citizens' clothing. William Walk, a burglar, was the ringleader. He has confessed, saying that he and his fellow prisoners were to have made a break for liberty at the first opportunity. It is believed that a foreman in one of the shops is implicated. A prisoner, who had been offered a chance to go with the gang, gave the plans away.

Took Too Much Medicine.

ZANESVILLE, O., Feb. 2.—It developed at a meeting of the board of health yesterday that the death of Mrs. Mary Malott last week was caused by an overdose of morphine administered by her husband. Her physician asked Malott to procure a certain quantity of the drug and divide it into six doses and administer them at intervals of several hours. Instead of following these instructions the whole quantity was given at once, causing her death. It is not thought that the drug was administered with criminal intent, and Mr. Malott will not be prosecuted.

Found Frozen to Death.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Feb. 2.—George Myers, William Ankeny and Solomon Shaffer, of near Kecksburg, were drinking at that place Saturday night and started for home, each going his own way. Shaffer, who was only sixteen years old, not reaching home, search was made for him, and he was found by the roadside, frozen to death.

Crushed Between Cars.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Feb. 2.—Daniel Schrauz, switchman, was crushed between the cars in the "Deadwood" yards at the end of the grand saloon, but was soon extinguished, having only burned some of the paneling. The books were badly damaged by water.

STEAMER WRECKED.

The Elder Runs on a Rock Off the Isle of Wight.

TWO HUNDRED LIVES imperiled

After Twenty-Two Hours of Intense Anxiety They are All Rescued by Brave Life-Savers—The New French Tariff Law in Force—Exciting Scenes in Paris Over the Effects—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The North German Lloyd steamer Elder, Captain Heinecke, from New York, Jan. 23, for Bremen, stranded near St. Catherine's Point, the southern extremity of the Isle of Wight, at 10 o'clock Sunday night. A heavy fog prevailed at the time the steamer struck. On the Elder there were nineteen first class and twenty-five second cabin passengers, 175 steerage and about seventy-five in the crew.

The place where the Elder struck is near the Atherfield life-saving station. Rockets were sent up to notify the coast-guards.

The entire coast-guard crew was immediately summoned and the neighboring stations were promptly notified to send reinforcement to the spot. A treacherous sea was running as the life-boats put to sea, and in addition it was bitterly cold, the wind freezing the water upon the life-savers' boat, oars and oilskins.

When the coast-guardsmen reached the Elder they offered to take off the passengers, but Captain Heinecke declined to allow them to leave the ship, expressing himself confident of providing for their safety. By this time the wind had increased so much that a furious gale was raging, the sea rising every moment and breaking over the steamship, which was working badly on the rocks and increasing the size of the holes cut in her bottom. The water was also rising in her hold in spite of the fact that the pumps were kept going continually.

Eventually the passengers became so alarmed and pleaded so earnestly with Captain Heinecke to be allowed to go ashore in the coast-guard or other life-boats that the Elder's commander consented to allow some of them to do so. The lifeboats were tossed about like corks, and the passengers and crew were repeatedly half drowned beneath the crests of towering breakers. The drenched and half-drowned passengers and life-savers were heartily cheered upon landing, and received every assistance from those gathered to welcome them.

The lifeboats throughout the day continued their gallant efforts to battle successfully with the wind, waves and rocks, and at 8 o'clock last night all the passengers had been safely landed.

The Elder's cargo consists of a large consignment of cotton for English and German manufacturers. By the order of Captain Heinecke, about sixty bales of cotton were hoisted out of the hold and thrown overboard, thus lightening the vessel to an appreciable extent. An effort is now being made to get her off the rocks.

The vessel is 5500 register, and was considered one of the best vessels of the North German Lloyd's fleet. The passengers were mostly Germans, Scandinavians and Danes, returning to their native lands.

The spot where the Elder is ashore is not far from where in the autumn of 1878, on a calm Sunday afternoon, H. M. S. Eurydice, a British government training boat, while returning from a cruise in the Pacific and West Indies, capsized in a sudden squall and drowned four hundred men. The Eurydice, when the swell struck her, had her port holes open on account of the fine weather, and was so close to land, to use a seaman's phrase, that you "could chuck a biscuit ashore," yet nearly every soul on board the ship was drowned.

New French Tariff in Force.

PARIS, Feb. 2.—There were many exciting scenes at the various French ports yesterday owing to the efforts of shipmasters and consignees to get their cargoes cleared at the custom-houses before the new commercial arrangements went into effect.

A number of vessels arrived just in the nick of time to get their cargoes in under the old tariff. Several Spanish wine steamers arrived at Bordeaux at a minute before 9 o'clock last night. Their captains had driven the vessels at their top speed to make port, so that the wine they carried might escape the new and higher tariff, and they were very indignant when they went to enter their vessels and cargoes to find the custom house closed for the day, business being suspended at 6 o'clock sharp. One captain managed to get his papers into the hands of the customs officials just as the hour struck.

This, however, was all that was necessary, and his cargo escaped the higher duty, which would have amounted to 6,000 francs more than what was paid, owing to the captain's good luck in getting to the custom house in time.

Attempt to Burn a Royal Castle.

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—An attempt was made on Sunday to fire the Royal castle at Konigsburg. The incendiary got access to the main tower, poured petrol over one of the floors and then set fire to it. Smoke and flames burst from the tower, and for a time there was a lively scare, the whole town turning out to witness the conflagration. The fire, however, was got under control before it had done much damage. The incendiary made good his escape, and no clew has been found to him up to the present.

Fell from a Scaffold.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 2.—Thomas Corcoran, aged forty, a carpenter, fell from a scaffold yesterday at a building on the corner of Grandin and Beach avenues, and sustained severe internal injuries which are liable to result fatally. He is believed he was killed on that account.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1892.

The New York Sun, Gath and a few other journals and journalists are the heaviest weights Senator Hill has to carry in his Presidential race.

FLEMING COUNTY has a valuable representative in the State Senate. Mr. Huff spends much of his time fighting for free railroad passes for the members of the present Legislature. The people are greatly interested in his struggle.

The "Tall Sycamore of the Lickling," Hon. A. S. Berry, of Newport, has opened the Congressional campaign in the Sixth district early. He spoke yesterday at Falmouth, and expresses confidence of winning. The district could go further and fare worse.

For years the State Treasurers of Wisconsin, all Republicans, have been pocketing interest on the public funds that came into their hands, but the Democrats have called a halt, and the ex-Treasurers will now have to account for it all. A public office is not a private snap.

That resolution of Congressman Arnold, introduced Monday, is to the point and ought to be adopted. It requests the President to recall Minister Egan, in order to promote friendly relations between the United States and Chili. There is no doubt that Mr. Egan's recall would promote friendly relations with our sister Republic in the South.

The courts of last resort have been hitting the Republicans some strong blows of late. In New York the court knocked out the claims of the Republicans in the Legislative contests and now the Supreme Court of the United States sits down on the Nebraska contingent of the G. O. P. in the Gubernatorial contest. Mr. Thayer will have to step down and out, and surrender the office to Governor Boyd.

A SPECIAL from Frankfort says that the bill introduced by Hon. Harvey Myers, of Covington, to regulate child labor in this State is attracting profound attention and promises to cause a great rattling among the dry bones. Just such a law has been needed for years. It is high time some of the "dry bones" were rattled. If some parents and some proprietors of manufactures have any conscience we don't see how they ever get any sleep.

That resolution of Representative Hart to inquire into the liquor license delinquencies at Louisville is stirring up a number of parties down there. Mr. Hart should get at the bottom of that business, no matter whom the investigation hurts. The Auditor's agent down there got about $10,000 in two years collecting these delinquencies, when the license ought to have been collected and turned over at a cost of about one fourth that amount. There was big money it for the agent, if licenses became delinquent.

It is estimated that the proposed bill on revenue and taxation will save the State $200,000 a year in commissions for collecting taxes alone, and the news comes from Frankfort that it will encounter the solid opposition of the Sheriffs throughout the Commonwealth, and the prospective Sheriffs are also joining in the fight against it. The members of the Legislature ought to remember that the people elected them and that they ought to legislate for the welfare of the public and not in the interest of a hundred or two office-holders and office-seekers.

For the Farmer.

Pork packing in the West has been on a liberal scale, the pack for the winter season so far aggregating 5,445,000 hogs against 5,175,000 last year.

Fruit growers expect a fine crop this year. There is a saying that a heavy sleet is followed by plenty fruit. The sleet keeps the buds back.

An exchange says: "The December Treasury statement shows a total of 167,346 live cattle exported in the latter half of 1891, against 205,168 in the same part of 1890—a fall-off of 37,822. The aggregate sum which they brought were respectively $14,851,511 and $16,483,728, or $88.75 and $80.34 per head—a gain of $8.41 per head in 1891 over 1890. Just now there is nothing to indicate a great prospective change in either the volume of or in the income from the cattle export trade. There is no evidence that last year's business cannot be duplicated, although few observers expect to see as large an output of cattle for the foreign market as in 1890. Unless some change in foreign regulations should be made, or some new market be opened, that year is likely to stand out for some time as phenomenal. By the way, the value of the entire volume of beef, pork and dairy products exported last year shows up unsatisfactorily in comparison with the year preceding, the totals having been respectively $120,941,929 and $131,375,044. Had it not been for the wonderful outward movement of breadstuffs in the past six months agriculture would have shown a loss in the foreign market."

Tax For Benefit of a Corporation:

In the case of Adams, &c., versus Halbert, taken up from Lewis County, the Court of Appeals in affirming says:

"First—To entitle one not a party to an action in which a judgment has been rendered to question the validity of the judgment, he must allege that his rights are materially affected by the judgment, and that it was obtained by fraud or collusion or without his knowledge.

Second—A turnpike company being authorized by its charter to have all the property within a certain boundary assessed for each year so long as necessary to pay for the construction of its road, and to return the assessment to the County Court for the purpose of having it listed with the Sheriff for collection, a creditor of the company, whose claim was incurred in the construction of the road, having obtained a judgment and return of "no property," has, as decided upon a former appeal in this case, the right to invoke the aid of the Chancellor to secure the appropriation of the tax to the payment of his debt. And the taxpayers can not in such an action question the validity of the claim upon which plaintiff's judgment was rendered, or his right to subject the taxes to the payment of his debt."

Other plays have been carried by a constant change of the business; sometimes one character has been the best, sometimes another, and the skeleton has remained the same. With frequent change of Miss Jarreau's specialties, the introduction of new music and the addition of new business to suit a new comedian, "Starlight" has gone on for four seasons, still steadily adding to Miss Jarreau's popularity and fortune, and making money for all concerned. A good deal of the success has come from the pleasant relations that have been maintained between the star and her company. Receipts for the week 1,563

Receipts same week last year 1,214

The offerings at auction were the largest ever known in this market, the next heaviest being the week ending September 11, 1891, when 3,111 hds were offered. Receipts were of good size, considering the cold, dry weather. The monthly report will show a reduction in stock of very near 3,000 hds, and there will be on hand the first of the month very close to 12,500 hds. This has been another very satisfactory week to all concerned, the market holding strong and active throughout the week. The opening sales were in all main satisfactory and rejoicing light. Buyers watched the sales closely and were active bidders

NEWS FROM FRANKFORT.

Brief Summary of the General Assembly's Proceedings—Fourth Class Cities.

In the House Monday Representative Chandler offered a resolution to instruct the members of Congress from Kentucky to vote for aid to the famine-stricken people of Russia.

A resolution was introduced asking the Attorney General for an official opinion in regard to the meaning of that section of the Constitution which relates to the joining of more than two counties together in one legislative district. Dr. Woods opposed the resolution, and thought the House was as competent to construe that section as the Attorney General or any one else. The resolution was postponed indefinitely.

The second reading of the revenue and taxation bill was commenced.

The Neat resolution to instruct Kentucky Congressmen to vote for free silver was discussed by Messrs. Neat, Pettit, Dawson, Quigley and Severs. No vote was reached.

In the Senate Mr. Bennett's House bill to repeal the road laws of Greenup County was passed.

Senator Wortham's bill on the property rights of married women was postponed.

Mr. Breckinridge presented a memorial from the cities of the fourth class—the form of a charter which these cities agreed upon at a meeting lately held. Mr. Breckinridge wanted it printed and referred to the Committee of Municipalities, but Mr. Galloway thought it was not a proper matter to be printed, but should be sent at once to the Revisory Commission. A lively debate followed on the proposition to print. Mr. Galloway insisted that the charter from all the other cities would have to be printed also, and that it would involve a needless expense. The motion to print and refer was adopted.

The Senate has passed the Hargis bill providing for the building of a bridge at Jackson, Breathitt County.

Mr. Daum's bill repealing the local option law of Berlin precinct, Bracken County, has passed the Senate.

The bills to change the code with regard to service on corporations and to prevent the collection of tolls on turnpikes on Sunday were reported adversely, which virtually kills them.

Rev. Keene, of Covington, is engaged in a meeting at Mt. Sterling that had resulted in nineteen additions to the Christian Church at last accounts.

The protracted meeting at the Winchester Methodist Church, South, conducted by Rev. H. C. Morrison, is still in progress. There have been over twenty additions.

The protracted meeting at Huntington, W. Va., conducted by Revs. J. W. McGarvey, Jr., and O. A. Carr, is largely attended. The court house, where the meetings are held, is crowded at every service. There have been thirty-five additions, and a house of worship will probably be erected in that thriving city by the Christian Church.

Railway News.

The Louisville and Nashville has contracted with the Ohio Falls Car Works at Jeffersontown for 1,000 freight cars.

The Enquirer announces that about the first of April the Chesapeake and Ohio will take charge of the Elizabethtown, Lexington and Big Sandy Road extending from Huntington to Lexington, and it is almost a certainty that the C. and O. people will gain an entrance to Louisville by operating from Lexington to Louisville over the track of the Louisville Southern either through a lease, traffic agreement or trackage arrangement with the latter company.

A YEAR or so ago Frank Goodwin bought thirty-six acres of ground near Rectorville for $12.50 per acre—$150. Last season he rented ten acres of the land to a tenant for tobacco. Some fertilizer was used, and a few days ago the crop was sold and delivered. It amounted to 12,000 pounds and brought 10 cents a pound—$1200. Mr. Goodwin's share was $600, which is $150 more than he paid for the entire tract of land.

THE Advance says the crying need of Mt. Olivet is a railroad, and they are not particular as to the kind—electric or otherwise—just so it's a road. But little goods have been taken there in three weeks owing to the icy condition of the pike. Piles of goods are in this city awaiting shipment to that point. Five wagons made the trip last week, but with great danger and at a cost to the merchants out there of $1 per hundred for the goods they got.

THE editor of the Bedford City Democrat says: "While in Maysville last Thursday we made a thorough examination of fuel gas as made by the new process. We think it a success, and in our opinion it is but a matter of time until coal will be entirely done away with for heating purposes in houses. We are informed by the Secretary of the company that 9-10 pounds of coal would make 1,000 cubic feet of gas, and it could be manufactured at the low rate of 6 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. The plant in Maysville is the first that has been put in operation and has a capacity of 1,000 cubic feet per minute."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—In the senate after the usual opening, bills were passed by unanimous consent providing for sessions of the United States circuit and district courts at Littleton, N. H., and to detach Montgomery county from the western district of Arkansas, and to attach it to the eastern district of the same state, and for the relief of the purchases of the lands in the Umatilla reservation.

A bill was reported and placed on the calendar providing a fourth judiciary district in the territory of Utah.

Mr. Kyle announced that he would on Wednesday next address the senate on his joint resolution relating to the laws of marriage and divorce.

Mr. Palmer, of Illinois, introduced a bill with the following comprehensive title, which caused Mr. Frye to inquire amid some quiet merriment whether it was the title or the bill itself which had just been read: "A bill to develop and facilitate the interstate commerce of the whole country, and more especially that of the twenty-two states and two territories, which are in whole or in part drained by the Mississippi river and its tributaries, which have an area of 1,575,000 square miles, and a present population of 35,946,901 and a total property value of $11,874,442,264, when the total population of all the balance of the states and territories is but 26,407,966 and their total property value is $11,583,199,387."

The bill referring to the court of claims the question of the fraudulent character of the award made against Mexico in the Weil and La Abra case passed the senate by a vote of 43 to 5.

Mr. Manderson's printing bill was laid before the senate as the next special order, and the senate at 4:55 p. m. adjourned.

In the House.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The house yesterday was engaged in a discussion of the rules, which assumed a wide range and allowed the members to make political speeches and personal remarks not pertinent to the subject under discussion. It was a day for personalities. Mr. Hurl and Mr. Morse engaged in a verbal encounter, while the speaker was compelled to dispatch the sergeant-at-arms to Mr. Pickler, of South Dakota, to take his seat. Altogether 9 rules seem to provoke considerable feeling, and the temper of the house is not at all placid upon the subject. Mr. Cochran, of New York, made an effective argument in favor of compelling the attendance of a quorum.

Reciprocity Arrangements.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Official notice has been received at the state department from the British minister of the tariff changes agreed upon in the recent reciprocity arrangement for the British West Indian colonies, have already been voted by Jamaica, Barbadoes and Trinidad, and that from Feb. 1 the reciprocity arrangement will be in full force in these colonies. A few days delay only is anticipated in putting the arrangement into operation also in the Leeward and Windward islands.

Nichols, of Michigan, for violation of the postal laws to one year and three months, but permits the fine imposed of $482.76 to stand.

THE LOTTERY MUST GO.

Law of the Last Congress Upheld by the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The United States supreme court Monday upheld the constitutionality of the recent anti-lottery act of the last congress affirming the decision in the case of Deyne and Rapiere, the publishers of the New Orleans States and Mobile Register, who were indicted on charges of sending through the mails newspapers containing lottery advertisements. By common consent the cases were made test suits as to the constitutionality of the law.

Chief Justice Fuller announced that owing to the death of Justice Bradley, to whom the writing of the opinion in the anti-lottery cases had been given, the court would postpone any elaboration of its views and confine itself to the expression of the general grounds on which the decision proceeds. The court then said that the opinion in ex parte Jackson held that the power vested in congress to establish postoffices and post roads, embraced the regulation of the entire postal system of the country and designated what may and may not be excluded.

The power granted to congress was complete and carried with it power to forbid the use of the mails in aid of the perpetuation of crime or immorality. It must be left to congress in the exercise of a sound discretion to determine what shall be excluded. There is no abridgment of the freedom of the press, for the reason that the government does not prohibit communication by other means but simply through the government agencies which it controls.

The uninvited is at large.

The Happiest and Healthiest.
After all, those are the happiest and healthiest persons who can labor moderately and sensibly at their duties day by day through the year, and who take with keen zest the pleasures of each season as they come to them in their own locality. Those who frantically chase happiness and pleasure from seashore to mountain and from continent to continent not infrequently bring back very little from the pursuit. — Providence Journal.

Give a boy a fundamental knowledge of the principles of chemistry, and the processes and operations of the farm become at once wonderfully interesting to him.
